

Kramme, Michael (1946- )

Michael Kramme (1946- ) was born and raised in Des Moines. He attended Grand View College, and received his B.A. and M.A. from the University of Northern Iowa and his Ph.D. from the University of Missouri-Columbia. He taught at Washington High school from 1968-1984 and was a professor of theater at Culver Stockton College from 1984-2002. His dissertation was entitled: “A Critical Analysis of Bill Bruno’s Bulletin, A Mid-West Show Business Newspaper” (1987). He wrote several books for Mark Twain Media including: How to Give a Speech (1996), Theater Through the Ages (1996), Mayan, Inca & Aztec Civilizations (1996), Pirates and Treasures (1998) heroes – World Heroes since World War II (1998), Rivers of the U.S. (1999), The United States (2000) and a series of seven booklets, one on each of the continents. He is the author of two books for the Iowan Magazine books division: The Governors of Iowa and The Schaffner Players, and Images of Washington for Arcadia Publishing. His articles have appeared in Iowa History Illustrated, The Palimpsest, Old West Magazine, Missouri Magazine, Theater History Studies.

